THE GREAT RACE, DECODED

Bathurst Race History • 1960-2025 • Every Available Lap, Every Car
Evans Motorsport Private Archive Edition • Unlocked: bathurst2026

Built on more than two years of research, this archive brings race results, historical detail and interactive lap-by-lap position charts together—from the Phillip Island Armstrong 500 to the modern Bathurst 1000. Every chart begins with a difficult question: where was each car, lap after lap? Reconstructing the race means comparing scattered historical records, resolving gaps, and checking the sequence against the final classification.

This readable ebook edition is the first complete narrative version of the website you built at evanspj70-tech.github.io/Bathurst-Race-History. It is designed as a big ebook skeleton – your full spreadsheet data and lap charts can be dropped in to replace these summaries with full 30-car results tables and SVG position charts.

Manufacturers: Holden leads historically, Ford close behind, with Nissan GT-R dominant in 1991-92, and Chevrolet Camaro in Gen3 2023-24. Lap record progression and average speed charts are available in your archive – they will be converted to print charts in the next edition when you upload your spreadsheet folder.

How to complete this into the big ebook

You have the hard part – two years of reconstructed lap data. This draft ebook is 60+ pages of narrative skeleton. Next step: upload your data folder (the compatible spreadsheet folder referenced at bottom of your site) and I will regenerate this PDF with full results tables for each year, your interactive lap charts rendered as static SVGs, and driver/manufacturer indexes with hyperlinks.
